GROWER CHAMPAGNE

Traditionally, champagne was mostly produced by a relatively small number of well-known 'houses', which purchased grapes from growers throughout the region. Recent years have seen many growers produce their own wines from their own vineyards and villages, creating distinctive and often sublime quality wines.

The Jewels of Chablis

A strong case can be made that, of all the places where Chardonnay is grown, Chablis produces the most distinctive wines. Even 'Village' wines from good producers have a unique charm and minerality. But in the hands of a true master, working with old vines and elite vineyards, Chablis can scale heights unknown to other Chardonnay makers.

Such is the case with the wines of René & Vincent Dauvissat. & François Raveneau, unquestionably Chablis' greatest producers. In terms of quality, Raveneau and Dauvissat are two producers who sit elevated high above the rest in Chablis. There are certainly outstanding wines produced outside of these two greats, but it is decidedly clear that there are no finer examples of Chardonnay grown on the chalk-rich, Kimmeridgian soils of Chablis than Dauvissat and Raveneau.

Stylistically, the Dauvissat wines lean in the direction of being broad, yet defined and pure. There is very little interference from oak with these wines. Perhaps a greater hint of lees contact, and a slight exposure to oxygen that fattens the wines, but the style is hauntingly intoxicating the longer the wine remains in the glass.

Similarly, Raveneau shares a passion for making wines in a traditional style, yet their house style tends to be a bit more taught and focused in nature. Sometimes offering a greater influence of oak, but showcasing intensity of fruit and minerality in a way that few producers in the world can offer.

HOME-GROWN – WINES FROM QUEENSLAND

THE GRANITE BELT

Located south-west of Brisbane, the Granite Belt is centred around the towns of Stanthorpe and Ballandean. Surprisingly, it is one of Australia's most elevated wine regions and is considered cool-climate, with sub-zero winter nights, spring frosts and relatively low humidity. With an elevation of 600-1000m, the region is so-named for its free-draining, granitic soils and the terroir is similar to that of the Rhône Valley in France, or Rioja in Northern Spain.

WITCHES FALLS

In 2003, Jon and Kim Heslop relocated from the Hunter Valley in New South Wales to the idyllic Mt Tamborine in the Gold Coast Hinterland – an area of spectacular natural beauty. The following year saw the inaugural vintage of their wines, and so marked the birth of Witches Falls. Their 'Wild Ferment' range produces characterful wines from the Granite Belt, showcasing a range of largely Mediterranean varietals.

2019	Witches Falls 'Wild Ferment' Fiano	95
2021	Witches Falls 'Wild Ferment' Garnacha	95

LA PETITE MORT

Perched on the western reaches of the Great Dividing Range in Ballandean, La Petite Mort was purchased in 2000 by Glen Robert and Robert Richter and encompasses 40 hectares of vines, winery, wilderness and granite boulders along a kilometre of frontage onto the pristine Severn River. Young Gun winemaker, Andrew Scott works with Robert to produce interesting and modern wines using ancient techniques.

2021	La Petite Mort Chardonnay	90
2022	La Petite Mort 'Crianza' tempranillo	110
2022	La Petite Mort 'Trilogy 1' Shiraz	125

SYMPHONY HILL

With an unflinching belief in the viticultural potential of the Granite Belt, Ewen Macpherson of Symphony Hill is committed to producing prestige wines from his vineyards. The Reserve Shiraz is grown in Ballandean's highest altitude vineyard, while lower altitude vineyards produce excellent Italian varietals.

2021	Symphony Hill 'Reserve' Montepulciano	110
2018	Symphony Hill 'Reserve' Shiraz	220

GOLDEN GROVE

The Costanzo family have been growing grapes in Ballandean since 1946 – initially selling bulk wine to the Italian immigrant community. Originally, more classic grape varieties were grown, however third generation winemaker, Ray Costanzo, has shifted his focus in recent years to lesser-known varietals.

2022	Golden Grove Vermentino	75
2022	Golden Grove 'Joven' Tempranillo	75

RIDGEMILL ESTATE

Established in 1998, Ridgemill Estate's current owner, Martin Cooper, purchased the vineyard in 2004, with a vision to make wines that reflect the region's terroir. At 840m, warm days and cool nights are conducive to producing wines of elegance and finesse. The focus is on classic Australian varietals, with as well as Spanish varietals, which are well-suited to the region.

NOT JUST NAPA (OR, MORE THAN CHARDONNAY AND CABERNET)

Recent years have seen an increasingly interesting mix of American wines arriving into Australia. Classic bold Chardonnays and robust Cabernet Sauvignons still exist (with many excellent, well-balanced examples) but we're also seeing nuanced, elegant Chardonnay; cool-climate Pinot Noirs from Oregon and the more elevated parts of California; plus other wines that have piqued our interest. For a taste of the 'new world' that's not Australia or New Zealand, here are some wines to consider.

SUPER TUSCANS

ITALY

'Super Tuscan' is a term used to describe red wines from Tuscany that may include non-indigenous grapes, particularly Merlot, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Syrah. The creation of Super Tuscan wines resulted from the frustration winemakers had towards a slow bureaucracy in changing Italy's wine laws during the 1970s, so they began mixing 'unsanctioned' varieties into their blends to make high-quality wines.

CHATEAU D'YQUEM

With over 400 years of history, Château d'Yquem is arguably the world's greatest sweet wine - regularly lavished with praise and superlatives. A blend of Semillon and Sauvignon Blanc, the richness, complexity and balance make any bottle a hedonistic experience.

SCOTLAND

HIGHLANDS

This region, which also takes in the islands, has a huge diversity of flavours and characters. It is the largest whisky region in Scotland, with a broad array of styles, from rich and textured to fragrantly floral, as befits an ever-changing landscape of coastline, moor and mountain. From lighter whiskies all the way through to salty coastal malts, the Highlands offers a Scotch for all palates.

ISLAY

The southernmost of its island chain, Islay (pronounced 'eye-luh') is renowned for a typically smoky, peaty style of single malt whisky. A magical island where the majority of its population are involved in whisky production, Islay is also known as the "Queen of the Hebrides".

LOWLANDS

Soft and smooth malts are characteristic of the Lowlands, offering a gentle, elegant palate reminiscent of grass, honeysuckle, cream, ginger, toffee, toast and cinnamon. Lowlands whiskies are often lighter in character and perfect for pre-dinner drinks.

SPEYSIDE

Speyside is the most densely populated whisky region in the world, famous for fertile glens and, of course, the River Spey. Its whiskies are known for being frugal with peat and full of fruit. Apple, pear, honey, vanilla and spice all have a part a role in expressions from this region, which are commonly matured in sherry casks.
